About Glenn Miller and the Birthplace Society

Alton Glenn Miller was born in Clarinda, Iowa on March 1, 1904 in a house which still stands on South 16th Street (now Glenn Miller Avenue). After living in Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri, he started his musical career on graduation from high school in Fort Morgan, Colorado. He went on to form the most popular and most innovative band of the “Big Band Era” of the 1930s and ‘40s. In World War II he was in charge of bands and broadcasting for the Special Services branch of the Army Air Forces. In his assignment, Major Glenn Miller was lost at sea on a flight from England to France in December 1944. So well-liked is his music that 71 years after his death, new releases of his recordings continue to sell steadily and well.

In 1976 a group of Clarinda citizens interested in Glenn Miller and his music decided that one way to honor this musical leader of the past would be to seek out and encourage potential musical leaders of the future. Clarinda business and professional people as well as members and friends of the Birthplace Society worldwide established a permanent instrumental scholarship fund. Later, memorials to Ralph Brewster of the Modernaires who sang with the Miller band, were given to the fund and a vocal scholarship was established. In another year, a scholarship was presented in memory of Jack Pullen, a Clarinda man who loved music. In 2006, another vocal scholarship was added honoring the memory of Miller vocalist Ray Eberle.

Each year the Glenn Miller Festival, held in Clarinda, is attended by Miller fans from all over the world. The 2017 Festival will be June 8–11 and will feature displays of Miller memorabilia, visits by Miller fans and historians (some of whom new him personally), performances by several big bands, (including the Glenn Miller Orchestra) and a dance. New scholarship winners, to be chosen on June 8, and will perform at the Stage Show on Friday, June 9, 2017.
